Seven Day Outfit Guide

Maybe you're a Costco loyalist and you buy all your clothing from your favorite warehouse. Or maybe you've never even considered buying clothes there, because you're too busy racing around for eggs, milk, cereal and, let's be real, toilet paper. Either way, this guide is for you.

Here is a week's worth of daily themes and outfit inspiration. ALL of the clothes, and many of the shoes, come from Costco. If any of these suggestions inspire your outfit, take a selfie and tag yourself on social media with #costcocasualchallenge.

Enjoy style the Costco way!

Seeing Red

Deep Red Sweater
+
Dark Ankle Pants or Skinny Jeans
+
Booties or Animal Print Shoes
+
Long/Layered Necklace

Monday

Tip: A sweater in a rich color easily makes you look put together with minimal effort. Adding animal print accessories punches up the outfit further.

Day at the Farm

Whether you're choosing a tree or driving for a fieldtrip, here's a stylish but practical option. And sunnies make everyone look 100% cooler!

Plaid Flannel Shirt of Any Color with Dark Neutral Quilted Vest

+

Black Skinny Jeans or Pants

+

Tall Boots

+

Aviators + Rustic Leather Wallet

Tip: The fanny pack is making a comeback. Go hands-free at the farm with this stylish clutch/ wallet that transforms into a fanny pack.

Blanket Statement

Fun details, like a blanket scarf and furry boots, dress up this basic formula.

Neutral or pink sweater
+
Black skinny pants or jeans
+
Black booties
+
Plaid blanket scarf

Wednesday

Tip: Try tucking your skinny pants into the furry booties.

Thursday

Me Likes the Stripes

Say hello to one of the hardest workers in your wardrobe, the striped shirt.

Neutral striped shirt
+
Denim jacket
+
Colored jeans
+
Athletic shoes

Tip: If your pants are too long, cuff or messy-roll your pants, which works with this casual look.

All the Feels

Ladies night out? Date night? A soft, pretty sweater feels feminine but keeps you warm.

Neutral eyelash sweater
+
White or blue jeans
+
Tall riding boots
+
Overcoat (optional)

Friday

Tip: Consider sizing up on the sweater and partially front tuck it. Try mixing neutrals for a sophisticated look.

Saturday

Athleisurely

Athleisure. Sporty meets spice. Enough said.

Hooded sweater or sweatshirt

+

Tank or layering shirt (optional) and Denim jacket (optional)

+

Leggings

+

Athletic shoes

+

Aviators

Tip: Incorporating pieces like a casual sweater and a structured jacket takes a look from athletic to athleisure.

Easy Like Sunday Morning

Take a load off. Savor the day in the humble basics that the Costco clothing department was built on: loungewear and sweats.

Lounge set or joggers and sweatshirt
+
Slippers
+
Quilted vest (optional)
+
Athletic shoes (optional)

Sunday

Tip: If you're feeling ambitious and want to leave the house, opt for the joggers and sweatshirt. Throw on a quilted vest and athletic shoes.

Meet Stephanie

Hi! I'm Stephanie Kretschmer, a stay-at-home mom who styles Costco clothing as a creative outlet.*

I'm not a professional wardrobe consultant, model or designer, but I have an interest in fashion. Not the fancy, expensive, runway kind, but the every day kind of fashion. I used to watch "What Not to Wear" religiously. I've had in-person styling sessions. I follow stylists and bloggers and apply what I see online. And I always think back to my first fashion mentor, my Grandma, who taught me the most important lesson of all -- that great style doesn't have to be expensive.

My love affair with Costco began in 2001 when I first moved near a town with a warehouse. These days, I visit often. Costco's clothing game has evolved and its prices allow me to live the whole "great style ..." mantra. As a busy mom on-the-go, I can't beat the convenience of getting eggs and clothes all in one trip.
